

Shaw Industries Group, Inc.
Environmental, Health & Safety Policy

As a global manufacturing leader, Shaw Industries Group, Inc. is firmly committed to safety, health and environmental excellence, both in our facilities and in the communities in which we operate. This holistic approach illustrates our commitment and expectations to our entire value chain including our associates, customers, suppliers, community members and other relevant stakeholders.

Shaw is committed to complying with all applicable environmental, health, and safety laws and regulations.

Our people, products, and operations respect and comply with all applicable environmental, health and safety laws and regulations. We educate associates in safe and healthful work practices and environmental protection measures, and expect compliance to environmental, health and safety requirements. This includes (but is not limited to) a focus on greenhouse gas emissions and contributions to climate change; air, water and soil stewardship; and waste (hazardous and non-hazardous).

Shaw is committed to ensuring that our operations are focused on reducing their impact on the environment and are safe and support the wellbeing of our associates, visitors and the surrounding community.

Shaw is dedicated to designing, constructing, maintaining and operating our facilities and transportation assets in a manner that protects our people, our communities, the environment and our physical resources.

All Shaw associates, and those who work on our behalf, have a personal responsibility for preventing harm to themselves, others and the environment by understanding and following the company's environmental, health and safety rules and procedures.

Shaw is committed to continuous improvement, assessing and reporting our progress, and sharing best practices throughout all levels of the organization.

We establish challenging objectives and measure our progress to ensure continuous improvement in environmental, health and safety performance.

We hold ourselves accountable for implementing this policy through regular management reviews, by setting goals, measuring and communicating our performance and progress, and by fostering a culture of continual improvement.

Further, Shaw associates are empowered and encouraged to provide feedback regarding Shaw's systems, practices and policies to help ensure our programs are effective and evolve with our operations.

Shaw is committed to creating positive interactions between our businesses and our people, the environment, our communities and our customers with methods that are socially responsible, scientifically based, and economically sound.

We actively pursue and implement innovative processes to reduce our impacts on the environment and to support the health & wellbeing of the planet and its people. We encourage our associates to give back to their community through volunteering and serving in leadership positions within community organizations. Shaw promotes healthy lifestyles through education, programs and incentives for wellness initiatives.

Shaw is committed to optimizing our products in accordance with Cradle to Cradle® design principles.

Consistent with Shaw's commitment to the Cradle to Cradle® philosophy, our processes and practices address material health, product circularity, clean air & climate protection, water & soil stewardship, and social fairness. We expect our associates and our suppliers to uphold Shaw's standards.

Shaw is committed to promoting awareness, implementation and compliance assurance of its Environmental, Health and Safety Policy.

Environmental, Health and Safety considerations are an integral part of our corporate strategic objectives, our commitment to sustainability, enterprise excellence, and our Code of Conduct. We continually strive toward a culture of safety, health and environmental performance excellence. We communicate this Policy publicly and to our associates, customers, suppliers, partners and other stakeholders.

Management has the responsibility for assuring that this Policy is implemented through specific management systems, programs, initiatives, practices and procedures.
